The place was formerly known as the Church home and was bought by Chandler a few months ago. The lot is 235x50 and the house a two story structure, is built into apartments. Attractive gardens surround the residence.

PROHIBISH EVILS SHOWN UP IN PARADE

Vintage Festival at St. Helena is Largely Attended.

The completion of the new highway to St. Helena and the gathering of the 1921 grape crop which means thousands of dollars to the Napa valley vineyardists were the motifs of a three day's celebration in our neighboring city over the last week end.

The parade on Labor day was replete with many beautiful and clever features. Some of the floats, among them the "Spirit of the Vintage Season," and "California" were as fine as ever put into any parade. The Vintage float was fashioned in the burlesque style with green foliage. A huge bottle and large glass typified wine, while goddesses of the vine were impersonated by some of Napa valley's fairest daughters.

The California float was decked in mammoth poppies with a bronze bear in the foreground and California represented by a beautiful native daughter.

The Queen's float was also very handsome and the American Legion had several fine features, among them the float, "Lest We Forget."

The parade was further notable for its humorous treatment of the prohibition situation, the "dry" era's evils being depicted by means of a float, called the "S. S. Bootlegger," the replica of a ship with a cargo of lemon extract, grappa, rot-gut, white mule, hair tonic and wood alcohol. From this "ship" pamphlets were thrown among the crowd. "Do You Realize" was the title of the pamphlet and some of its trite paragraphs were as follows: "Do you realize—What the country is coming to when congress can dictate what medicines a doctor can prescribe for his patients. Do you realize—That you cannot make people good by legislation and you cannot enforce a law if you have not implanted in the people a sense of moral wrong in its violation? Do you realize—That the moonshiner, the homebrewer, the whiskey runner and the bootlegger flourish in the land as they never did before? Do you realize—That smuggling is going on especially heavy from Canada to the U. S., and that ships lie outside the three mile limit and dispose of a cargo in a few hours? Do you realize—That this is one of the main reasons for high taxes? Do you realize—That the whole wretched farce of prohibition is creating in millions of Americans a new and unnatural attitude toward their country and its laws? Do you realize—That the first dry year cost the U. S. government and the various state governments approximately $1,000,000,000 in loss of internal revenue taxes and in cost of enforcement? Do you realize—That prohibition is the cause of all this and should be classed as a curse to the nation? "Reform" was depicted by a black clothed Puritan from under whose broad brimmed high hat a red nose was revealed. Behind him were horsemen with the placard "Reform, give him the run!"

The parade was greeted with applause and laughter all along the line of march.

The exhibit hall contained some of the best products of the various Farm Centers but wine was notable for its absence although at previous festivals it was displayed as St. Helena's chief product. One of the committeemen is authority for the statement that although a permit was requested to exhibit colored water in labled wine bottles at the Festival, that the Washington D. C. authorities refused to allow even a semblance of wine to be shown.

AUTO COLLISION LEADS TO ARREST

Reckless Driving Is Charge of D. Forni Against R. D. Troxel of Vallejo.

An auto collision in which the occupants of two cars were badly bruised and injured, occurred near Fetter's Springs Monday, when a machine driven by R. D. Troxel of Vallejo, accompanied by some marines and Mrs. R. L. Lewis of Caliente collided with a car in which Dave Forni of El Verano and a party of friends were riding. The cars were badly damaged and Forni swore to a warrant against Troxel charging him with reckless driving. Deputy Sheriff Ryan served the warrant at Vallejo and Troxel was held under $1,000 bonds pending his hearing which takes place next Tuesday.

FIRE! VALLEY ANGEL SAVES MORE PROPERTY.

CROWDS THROG SONOMA VALLEY OVER HOLIDAY.

There was a great crowd of visitors in Sonoma Valley last Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The auto ferries reported a record number of motorists. The Valente-Sturmner auto bus line between here and San Rafael handled about 500 passengers. The night of Labor Day many expected there would be a late N. W. P. train, and remained over, only to find that Valente's was the only service to San Francisco. The auto busses carried over 200 passengers that night. Three round trips and four busses got everybody home by midnight.

BIGELOW'S HOME LEASED FOR GOLF CLUB.

It is reported that the J. K. Bigelow home and surrounding acreage near Sonoma Vista has been leased for a Golf and Country Club. The President of the California Golf Club, has been looking at property adjacent to Boyes Springs for some time and decided the Bigelow property would be suitable for the links and the grounds be ideal for recreation purpose. It is an attractive place in the western foothills with large residence, adjoining which a tennis court has recently been laid out.

WINE GRAPE PRICES STILL PROBLEMATIC

Plenty of Activity And Big Demand For Sonoma Valley Wine Grapes.

The following news items tell something of local grape conditions, but as yet no one will say what the top price will be for Sonoma wine grapes. Growers still refuse to sign up with buyers, although picking will start next week.

Louis Kunde, of the Wildwood Vineyard, Kenwood, is shipping his grapes east on consignment. The boxes all bear the name of Sonoma valley's prize vineyard and owner. Despite the marketing cost, the grapes will probably net Kunde over $100 per ton in the New York market.

Conforti & Laurezi have begun to ship grapes east from Oakley, California. The buyers closed some splendid contracts early in the season for around $55 per ton. As they bought about 2000 tons in the interior vineyard section of the State at that figure they will probably clear a fine piece of money on the shipments at the present selling price in New York. They could not get many Sonoma valley grapes as the local growers refuse to sell until prices were established. While admitting that Sonoma Valley wine grapes are the finest dry wine grapes in the State, the buyers declare other sections produce big fine appearing grapes which sell well and that many eastern wine drinkers do not know the difference. Connoisseurs and experienced wine men however prefer Sonoma grapes and they command the best prices.

Grapes on the former Kerns ranch at Kenwood have been sold for $85 per ton. The place recently was sold by Peter Serck to Santa Rosa parties.

SAD DEATH OF LITTLE SON

Mr. and Mrs. G. Sorini had the sad experience of losing their little four year old son this week. He died following a severe illness with diphtheria. Although an operation was performed on his throat and the little fellow made brave fight for his life, he succumbed to the fatal malady. Two other children of Mr. and Mrs. Sorini who have been ill are reported better. Their many friends sympathize deeply with them in the loss of their beloved son.

These cases of diphtheria are isolated ones and the home is quarantined to prevent any further contagion.

SONOMA SUNFLOWER OUTCLASSES SANTA ROSA'S

Last year Santa Rosa nosed Sonoma valley out of the honor of raising the biggest sunflower, but this year we win by heck! Mr. P. Angove reports a sunflower raised on his place near Sonoma measuring 23 inches across. The stalk is also a prize winner and towers up with corn 17 and 18 feet tall.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Volquardsen have been visiting their son Leland and family. Their little grandchild is a great attraction to the Sonoma folks on both sides of the family. Mrs. Leland Volquardsen was formerly Valeria Helberg.

FRED HANSENS RETURN AFTER THREE MONTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen who left here the 15th of June in their roadster for a tour of the western states returned Tuesday after a fine outing of over 5000 miles. They camped out in the various states visited, and spent an entire month at Yellowstone Park.

After a few days at the Summit Hotel, in June, the travelers proceeded on their journey to Reno, Nevada and they made a five and one half day trip across the desert country into Utah. As Mr. Hansen has a number of customers in that state to whom he had shipped many baby chicks from his Sonoma Hatchery, he took the opportunity to make a personal call and introduce himself. He was given a hearty welcome and heard fine reports of his chicks, some of which have been prize winners at poultry shows there. In Salt Lake city, the Hansens spent the Fourth of July and visited the wonderful fairgrounds. Mr. Hansen was taken down sick at Salt Lake and they had to defer their journey for a few days. They finally arrived in the Yellowstone Park and enjoyed some excellent fishing there. Mr. Hansen vouches for the story that he caught—single trout, which took a half hour to land and was a meal for five people.

The states of Wyoming and Montana, including the city of Butte was visited by the travelers and from there they journeyed to Spokane, Washington, where they found a very hospitable Chamber of Commerce and excellent camp accommodations provided by the city.

In Oregon Mr. and Mrs. Hansen went over the Columbia river highway which they declare was the most beautiful scenic trip in all their travels—so beautiful was it, that they went over it twice.

They were glad to get back to California and spent four days at the State Fair at Sacramento before coming home.

California's Next Governor

WHILE CALIFORNIA'S FUTURE cannot be blighted by any false political move, it certainly can be retarded or on the other hand its rosy destiny can be brought to pass more direct and more quickly through the selection of the right Californian for our next Governor.

Vicious and unnatural primary laws have already proved costly, and rule by the minority has been rubbed in, until California is decidedly sick of it. As a result we have had Governor Stephens and been through the mill too with him, through the hours when he gave us hope that economy and lower taxation were to prevail, and through the awakening when we found our taxes higher than ever and the Governor personally recommending expenditures and the carrying of burdens which squared not at all with his sentiment of retrenchment. Artificial relief through the shifting of the burden to corporations, only to have the public utilities pass the buck back to the people, fooled nobody, but rather stirred the public to the realization that such procedure made corporations and their stockholders of less value as prosperity builders and less value as utilities. It retarded expansion and discouraged growth, the very thing the State of California needs to keep pace with states less favored by nature but free of unnatural restriction and interference and therefore functioning more freely.

The Stephens program of economy was a failure and the average voter will now look with suspicion on any candidate for governor whose platform is merely a promise of economy. We believe a successful man of wide business experience would fill the governor's chair better than any other type right now. As yet the timber is limited. One likely candidate who has the excellent record of piling up $2,000,000 in interest for the State of California through his efficiency as State Treasurer, is Friend Richardson, but all of Mr. Richardson's saving has been for naught, gone into the rat hole of state extravagance together with all the good money coughed up in taxes. If Mr. Richardson can convince voters that he can make this interest money do some good, if he can assure us that he can abolish some of our overrated, money eating commissions, and put some old fashioned ideas into effect he will have a good chance to be elected. If however he wants to train with the idealistic money wasters and lends his ear to every panacea in the country or gives a hint that he is to perpetuate extravagance in the state, he will have to step aside for we believe the people have done with all of that.

As a man Mr. Richardson is above reproach. He has made an excellent public record in the office he has filled. He is a conscientious courteous official. He will have to declare himself however on several questions of big moment before the way to the governor's chair will be made easy sailing for him. Although the head of an influential press association we do not believe that the newspaper men of California will consider fraternalism ahead of the State's real need of a big man with backbone enough to do some drastic State house cleaning and sound decision enough to make some drastic changes in policy that California may enter upon the constructive era she deserves.

IT LOOKS AS IF the State highway between Schellville and Santa Rosa is through lack of funds, to be short on one end or the other. We believe Sonoma Valley should be connected up with the main lateral, the Black Point cut-off first of all. As much as we would like to get to Santa Rosa we believe that the entire valley would benefit most by the connection on this end, for it is from Sacramento and the bay section that we hope to draw motorists. Sonoma Valley cannot divert traffic from the main thoroughfare unless the highway takes the place of the bumpy roads and lures the traveler as it always has wherever built. Santa Rosa has its main highway and we understand has agreed to the program of starting from this end. We trust the Highway Commission will be apprised of the mutual understanding and build from Schellville up.

THE NEW LUMBER FIRM AT BOYES SPRINGS.

The Boyes Springs Lumber Company with a full line of building supplies has located at Boyes on the main highway and is already doing business on property purchased there. Mr. O. L. London, formerly of Vallejo, is the live young manager for the company and is already meeting with substantial encouragement in the new field. He is residing at Boyes, his family having arrived on Monday.

The lumber company saw decided possibilities in Sonoma valley and our fast growing summer colony, and as evidence of its faith bought two lots not far from the Boyes springs Northwestern station. There they have erected an attractive office building and will carry a full line of lumber and mill work, hardware, plumbing materials, feed, and fuel.

The mill work for the new James Post bungalow and four other jobs are already being gotten out by the new firm.

Mr. London will aim to give prompt service and a good figure to his customers and bespeaks for the firm its share of the patronage of the Sonoma valley.

A baby girl was born to Mrs. Ellen Pavlovich of the former Bosse place Tuesday of this week. Dr. Hays was in attendance.

CARL DRESEL'S COUSIN MAY BE U. S. ENVOY TO BERLIN

The following dispatch from Washington refers to Mr. Loring Dresel, first cousin of Carl Dresel of Sonoma Valley. The gentleman is a very wealthy resident of Boston and it was with his sister that Miss Eva Dresel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dresel has been living while studying music in the east.

"WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—It was circumstantially, though not officially, stated in Washington tonight that the President and Secretary Hughes are desirous of offering the ambassadorship to Berlin to Ellis Loring Dresel.

"The American commissioner who recently negotiated the peace treaty with Germany is highly thought of by the administration and the Berlin embassy is said to be his if he desires it.

Dresel is a Boston lawyer, fifty years old, who drifted in diplomacy by the accident of war. He was in Berlin when the war broke out in August 1914, and volunteered his services to Ambassador Gerard as a helper at the embassy. The ambassador prevailed upon him to remain in Germany and assigned Dresel the special duty of looking after the interests of British prisoners of war.

"At the peace conference in Paris he served as a member of the American mission's intelligence service. The recent negotiations with the Wirth-Rosen cabinet were conducted by Dresel with skill, and the ambassadorship is considered his due on his record."

Allison is a man of all-around newspaper experience. In addition to being a competent printer, he is thoroughly conversant with the news-gathering and business ends of newspaper publishing, and will be a welcome addition to county editorial circles.

N. J. Heggie and party motored to the Blue Lakes in Lake county over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Partridge of El Verano had a house party over the last week end for their son and his young friends. The Partridges own the former Chevalier place and are up from San Francisco frequently at their beautiful country home here.

JACK LONDON'S BIOGRAPHY TO BE OUT SEPT. 16th.

Jack London's biography, written by his wife, Charmian London, and to be called "The Book of Jack London," will be one of the Century company's September 16 publications.

It was to be published in England the latter part of August, and much interest is reported there, even in advance of publication. "John o'London," writing from London to the New York Times Book Review, says that he has "for a long time been receiving inquiries from unknown correspondents about the date of the publication of the biography of Jack London." He says that "no large biography is likely to have a more popular welcome." "I predict," he continues, "that the libraries will have to take the work very freely to satisfy their clients and that at the free libraries the book will be in the same unusual demand."

The publishers believe that not only London and New York but Paris and Moscow as well are likely to demand editions of this biography, for these and numerous other capitals have produced and distributed translations of many of his works, and wherever Jack London is known through his books, the feeling in regard to him is peculiarly one of interest in that vital personality.

Charmian Kittredge London's book, say the publishers, is likely to supply exactly what his loyal friends in many lands desire; it is intimate as she could make it; frank as he would have had her about his unconventionalities and insurgencies.

Questioned as to the inception of the idea, Mrs. London wrote to her New York publishers: "As to the origin of the idea of writing the biography, he himself used to say that should he die first, I would be the only one who could write the sort of biography which should be written about him. But he would add that I would probably not dare to undertake it, because I would not want to assume the critical attitude toward his shortcomings. This challenge I have taken up when the time came."

VISIT SON IN VALLEY OF THE MOON.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kroeger have been down from Seattle visiting their son, W. J. Kroeger and his bride at El Verano. They are charmed with California and Sonoma Valley. It is their first trip down here.

Mr. W. J. Kroeger is a good booster for the Valley of the Moon and declares that in all his travels overseas while in the army he never saw a better climate or fairer valley than this. His parents made a short visit this time but will be welcome visitors again to the Valley of the Moon.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. ## VINEBURG NEWS

Miss Emily Batto celebrated her birthday on Thursday Sept. 8th. The young lady was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents and also the congratulations and best wishes of her host of friends. The following lines we find on our desk will show the high esteem in which this popular and accomplished young lady is held:

TO OUR FRIEND EMILY
To Miss Emily Batto these lines are addressed
And of all our best wishes we wish her the best

She dwells in fair Vineburg where we wish her to stay
For we know of one heart she has stolen away.

Is she pretty you ask us, we'll have you to guess,
But if would answer we'd surely say yes.

A bright winning smile, such a dear little nose,
Sweet lips like peach blossoms in silent repose.

Her hair dark and silken,
Her eyes brown and bright
Like the dewdrops on pansies that sparkle at night.

Long live "Miss California."
And in friendship we hail
The fairest young flower
Of Vineburg's Sweet Vale.

Roadmaster F. Heller has been improving the roads in this vicinity this week.
